Dear [REDACTED]:

Your appeal is being certified to the Board of Veterans Appeals for disposition. This means that your records are being transferred to the Board in Washington, DC., so that the Board can reach a decision on your appeal.

Appeals are considered by the Board as promptly as possible, in docket order. Once the appeal has reached the Board of Veterans Appeals, it takes several months to review it. The time it takes to complete this appellate review process will vary depending upon the current backlog at the Board.

If you have requested to appear personally at a hearing before the Board of Veterans Appeals, you will receive further information by separate letter. If you want to appear personally and give testimony concerning your appeal and you have not already requested the hearing, you must submit your request within 90 days of the date of this letter, or by the date that the Board issues a decision in your case, whichever comes first.

The time within which you may submit additional evidence concerning the appeal, appoint a representative to represent you in your appeal to the Board, or change the representative you previously chose to represent you before the Board is also limited to 90 days from the date of this letter, or the date that the Board promulgates a decision in your case, whichever comes first.

Any new request for a hearing or to appoint or change representatives or any additional evidence should not be submitted to this office, but should be mailed directly to the Board of Veterans Appeals (014), 810 Vermont Avenue, NW, Washington, DC. 20420.

Please see 38 CFR, Section 19.174 for further details concerning the time. As soon as the decision is made, the Board will notify you.
